

Intuitive soul

You don't believe in tutorials, you believe in yourself.

Your sense of smell never fails you, and you are able of clicking on all the crosses on the banners with your eyes closed. Without a doubt, you have a sixth sense when it comes to making the best decisions, wherever you might be. And a seventh, an eighth, a ninth, and however many!

You don't need Google Maps or a compass to know which route to take, because you're well aware that all you need is your instinct to come through safely.

You know from experience that good luck doesn't come knocking, and that you must go after it with the open-minded spirit of taking on everything life has to offer.

You are certainly used to always getting your own way. Your secret? When it comes down to it, knowing how to listen to your inner voice, your private Siri, and not being afraid of following the links life presents you with.

A group of intuitive souls like yours joined together years and years ago. They stood in a circle and decided among themselves to hold hands above their heads, tapping their feet to the music that was played. This led to the most beautiful dance of all. Yet more beautiful still was their intuition to put their handbags in the middle of the circle. Just in case.

Favorite quote

"If you're right you're guessing."

Other intuitive souls

Joan Miró, with his shapes and colors full of life, imagined unique constellations that are now on display in the main museums in the world.

Pere Calders filled our libraries with his tales full of humor, absurdities, and a one-of-a-kind sense of a magical life.

Carme Rusalleda, with her self-taught blend of avant-garde and tradition, has become the chef with the most Michelin stars in the world.

